Words of encouragement from Rev. Becky Sunday

"I assure you that when you have done it for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you have done it for me." –Matthew 25:40

In Matthew's gospel, Jesus tells a parable of the judgment of the nations. He paints a picture of the heavenly king looking upon faithful sheep—those who had acted with generosity, care, and mercy in their dealings with others. Through the story, Christ calls us to minister in very tangible ways to those who are most in need. We are called to give food and drink to those who hunger and thirst, welcome strangers, clothe the poor, and minister to those who are sick or imprisoned.

Later this month, adults and youth from our congregation have a unique opportunity to be part of a mission experience that will minister to God's children in need by traveling to United Church Outreach Ministry in Wyoming (greater Grand Rapids), Michigan from Sunday, June 22 to Saturday, June 28.

United Church Outreach Ministry (UCOM) began with the work of a single congregation. Starting with a lunch program for kids around 1970, the people of Smith Memorial Congregational United Church of Christ have been committed to feeding and serving families in need in southwest Grand Rapids, Michigan. Since that time, their ministry has grown, incorporating a clothing program, tutoring, and other services to the community. Now a stand-alone mission, UCOM operates one of the largest food pantries in greater Grand Rapids. UCOM stands on a foundation of loving service to the changing needs of the community, and they are committed to helping the people of the area help themselves. I believe this is the type of ministry Jesus was talking about when he told us to minister to "the least of these."

During our week at UCOM, we will work on a variety of projects, ranging from helping to stock the food pantry to directly assisting clients. We will also be helping to staff the UCOM Carnival, a special event on Wednesday evening. There will also be time to reflect together on our experience, learn about the mission and ministry of UCOM, and build community with one another.

If you have questions, just ask. Registration forms are available in the church office, in the sanctuary, or on the church's website: www.stpaulucc.com. A remarkable thing happens when we engage in ministry with and for others—we grow and change in amazing ways ourselves! I invite you to come along on this adventure in ministry together.

Peace and blessings,

Pastor Becky

To Members and Friends of St. Paul UCC:

Thank you all so very much for making my installation a special occasion. Your support, presence, and prayers are most appreciated. I look forward to many more years of ministry together with all of you in Christ's name.

Peace and blessings,
Pastor Becky

FAITH FORMATION NEWS!

Faith Forward!

I was sitting at my desk in January when I received my newsletter from the Association of United Church Educators when I read this statement. "This isn't your average children's and youth ministry conference!" My first thought was wow that is a great tag line to get people's attention, but as I learned more about the Faith Forward organization I knew I needed to get to this conference.

Imagine more than 15 general presentations in addition to 4 additional breakout workshops and several conversations around the room during breaks in just a time span of three days and you have Faith-Forward. I was able to hear from and meet some of the best of the best from around the world. Paul-André Durocher, Archbishop, Diocese of Gatineau, Québec had us looking for the Rhythm in our lives. Reverend Mary Hawes, National Going for Growth (Children and Youth) Adviser, Church of England talked about the baggage of our lives that we all carry and how that baggage impacts our ministries. "One person's baggage is another person's suitcase of faith"-Rev. Hawes.

The workshops offerings were excellent. The hardest decision of the conference was trying to figure out which workshop I wanted to attend. Then when the workshop ended I couldn't wait to find a new friend who attended a different workshop to share our experience. While, I can't share everything I learned in one article I wanted to at least share the framework of the event and titles of the workshops I attended. If you see a topic that sparks your interest and would like to discuss it further please feel free to reach out to me and I will be more than happy to share with you. One more thing—just because this was a Children's and Youth Ministry focused event, don't worry, 99% of the things I learned will carry over to adult faith formation too.

Our general sessions revolved around Re-Imagining Children's and Youth Ministry through Theology, Re-Imagining Children's and Youth Ministry through Story, Re-Imaging Children's and Youth Ministry through Rhythm. Each session had at least two presentations and each one was dynamic and engaging. The workshops I attended were. Nurturing Generous Spaciousness on Gender and Sexuality, The Art of Bible Storying, Exploring ways Children can catch the Rhythm of Pausing and Noticing God in All Things, Curating Sacred Space: Experiential Worship. In addition to all the wonderful speakers we had uplifting worship and heard from a wonderful local Spoken Word group Southern Word. It truly was an amazing event.

Well, as you may have notice this conference sparked many new ideas as well as expanded on other plans that I have already been working on. I can't wait to see what God has in store for us at St. Paul as we move forward together. Another amazing part of the event was the integration of technology. For those of you that are familiar with Twitter many of us at the event were sending tweets of our thoughts, quotes and questions during the event. So I am going to leave you with a few of my favorites tweets. #FaithForward2014 Follow me on Twitter @RevDyar

"My existence is a run-on sentence and only God can determine the punctuation..." #SouthernWord

"If you look deep inside yourself, you will find that light. The light has a name. It is called a soul." –Rabbi Sandy Sasso

"Christians have a mandate for shared responsibility to care for children." Dr. Miller-McLemore

"We are in a time when our boxes are burning & we are better off without them." Brian McLaren

If we read the bible and see evidence of God's violence, we're reading it wrong. -Suzanne Ross

"We must not just know the story we must live & breathe the story"- Phyllis Tickle

"Sabbath is letting go of the roles you play and remembering who you are" -Mark Yaconelli

So now my friends I am off to Sabbath and spend time with my family. Many blessings as we move into the warm summer months with our eyes on whatever is to come.

Pastor Michelle

Rating System for Our Pastors

The personnel committee has developed a Rating System for our Pastors, and Church Council has approved its use. This rating system is not for evaluation; rather, it is a communications tool designed to make our pastors better ministers and us better team players. The rating system is designed to provide feedback, discover both strong points and areas to improve upon, and to enable our pastors to construct personal goals (not congregation goals) for the next period covered by the rating system. We have recently completed the rating system for Pastor Michelle Dyar and are in the process of completing the rating system on our Senior Pastor.

The rating system is composed of a survey with a number of questions whose answers are assigned a value of 1 through 5 with 1 being the highest. The person completing the rating system form may also circle the letters "N/A" if they feel that adequate information is not available to accurately assign a value to the question. Each question can also be assigned a priority; again, 1 is the highest and 5 is the lowest, so the pastor can weigh how important this question is to the person completing the rating system form.

The pastor, members of the personnel committee and the elected members of church council complete the rating system forms. If the rating system forms are being completed for the Minister of Faith Formation, the Senior Pastor also completes the rating system form. The Pastoral Support Team acts as an advisor to the pastor so will not be included as part of the rating system.

The Personnel Committee takes the completed surveys, compiles the results, and discusses them with the pastor. Based on the survey results and discussion with the Personnel Committee, the Pastor then uses this information to formulate personal objectives for the next rating period. The Church Council is then briefed on the survey results and the Pastor's objectives at the next council meeting.

The Pastor and Chair of the Personnel Committee will maintain paper copies of the completed Rating System. All electronic copies will be deleted upon completion of the action. Paper copies held by the Personnel Committee Chair will be destroyed one year after the Pastor departs St Paul UCC.

BUCKLAND UCC QUARTER AUCTION

On Saturday, June 28 Buckland UCC will be holding its 2nd annual Quarters for Camp quarter auction here at St. Paul UCC. Doors open at 5:30pm, and the auction starts at 6:00pm. Paddles will be $2 and can be purchased at the door or pre-purchased. A special "all-in" paddle ($25 pre-sale; $30 at the door) will be in every drawing (no need to be present to win!). There will be prizes from multiple vendors and local businesses, concessions, and a 50/50 raffle. Get a special drawing ticket for every nonperishable food item you bring for the local food pantry! Proceeds help send Buckland UCC kids to church camp. For info call: Christy Schroer (419-733-2752) or Barb Bowsher (419-305-3051).

OHIO CONFERENCE ANNUAL GATHERING

The Ohio Conference Annual Gathering will be June 14, 2014. The conference will be experimenting with a new format this year. You are invited to attend at one of three locations: the UCC Church House in Cleveland; Methodist Theological School in Delaware, OH; or United Theological in Dayton. More information and registration materials can be found on the Ohio Conference UCC website: www.OCUCC.org.

YOU CAN COUNT ON ME

by Laura Kinstle

As I'm writing this article, I am thinking of how many different ways we count on someone.

For instance, we have friends that we know will be there for us no matter what is happening in our lives; whether we're sad, happy, depressed, delighted or just plain ok. I have a friend that knows me better than myself. I have had this friend for over 40 years and she can answer my question even before I can finish a sentence. She is there for me when I don't know which direction to turn. Sometimes it is only a phone call you need to be uplifted. And my friend never forgets Christmas or my birthday and knows exactly what I want. My mom passed away in 1999 and she always gave me a music box for my birthday or Christmas. I have a music box collection in my curio cabinet and my friend almost always gives me a music box as a gift. That is a true friend who knows me inside and out and upon whom I can count on.

And I have a Facebook friend which I just made over the past year. She will let me tell her anything that is own my mind and not judge me. She encourages me, helps me in making decisions and is always there to answer my Facebook messages. I know this is a different kind of friendship and she lives far away from me but I always feel as if she is right beside me when I hear back from her. She is deeply religious and knows I have a strong faith in God and is someone I can always count on to be there for me through thick and thin.

Then there is another type of friendship I am very lucky to have and that is with my dogs. I have a dog named Barney who was abused as a puppy and we adopted him from the dog pound. This dog loves me unconditionally and I can count on him to be with me when I'm crying, when I'm happy watching him eat his noontime sausage (yes, a noontime sausage) and when I am walking him with my power chair and he is right by my side. But, Barney counts on me, too. You are going to think this dog is very spoiled and you would be correct. He gets tired on his walks and he begs me to pick him up, put him on my lap and carry him home. I get licked a lot like a postage stamp, but he counts on me as much as I count on him.

And, finally there is another kind of friendship that I cherish the most. That is my friendship with God. There is a hymn entitled "No One Understands Like Jesus" and there is a lesson right within the title.

When I feel all alone and anxious or depressed, God is there for me. I can pray to him and tell him that I need him and I'm not sure how to make it through the next day. And, always each time when I am at my rope's end, he gives me something to hold onto.

Maybe the phone will ring with my friend asking me how I am, or maybe there will be a Facebook message from my far away friend telling me that I'm an ok person and worthy of God's love. Or, just maybe it's my dog Barney who comes up to me out of the blue and puts his paws up on my knee when I'm in the wheelchair and just wants to be loved. I know without a doubt that I can count on God to be there for me.

And, he will be there for you, too. You can count on that for sure!

*"Those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; They will run and not grow weary, They will walk and not be faint."
~ Isaiah 40:31*

The Christian Education Board will meet on Monday, May 5th at 6PM. We will be talking more about "Faith Formation Objectives". All are welcome!

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR 2014 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

Kendra Short: Kendra is the daughter of Mark and Cheryl Short. Kendra has graduated from a three year degree program at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in South Hamilton, Massachusetts with a Master of Divinity. Through the theological, biblical, and global training that she received at the seminary, she feels called into overseas mission work. She has joined International Teams, a mission organization that places a large emphasis on both compassion ministry and proclamation of the Good News. After raising support, she will join a team in Athens, Greece and will work through local evangelical churches in order to do outreach to refugees and the homeless in the inner city.

Lindsey Short: Lindsey is the daughter of Mark and Cheryl Short. Lindsey will graduate this summer with a PhD in developmental psychology from Brock University in St. Catharines, Ontario. In the fall, she will begin as a professor of experimental research psychology at Redeemer University College in Ancaster, Ontario.

CONNECTING TO THE WIDER CHURCH

The Northwest Ohio Association annual meeting was held Saturday, April 26 at St. Paul's UCC in St. Marys. Attending from our congregation were Rev. Becky Sunday, Rev. Michelle Dyar, Rev. Elaine Mikesell, Dr. Alan Mikesell, and Susan Bartlett. St. Paul UCC, Wapakoneta was recognized for being a "5 for 5" congregation, contributing to basic OCWM (Our Church's Wider Mission) support for our association, as well as the four annual special mission offerings (Neighbors in Need, Strengthen the Church, One Great Hour of Sharing, and the Christmas Fund). St. Paul UCC also received a certificate of appreciation for increasing our 2013 support for Our Church's Wider Mission by 10% over the previous year.

Without dollars to OCWM, ministries of Northwest Ohio Association, Ohio Conference, and the national church could not exist. It is their main source of funding for operations. What exactly do these funds accomplish? Many things, in fact. Northwest Ohio Association provides assistance for churches and pastors who are in times of crisis, facilitates the search and call process during times of transition, keeps our pastors' training and credentials up to date, assists those who are discerning calls to ministry, and offers multiple trainings, resources, and ministry opportunities for laypersons as well as authorized ministers. The Ohio Conference manages our Outdoor Ministries program and SARA missions, and has many other important functions. The national setting of the UCC manages ministerial profiles for pastors, coordinates the UCC insurance and pension program, provides legal counsel when necessary for congregations and associations, offers pastoral training in areas such as youth ministry, stewardship, justice ministries, and faith formation, and the list goes on. For several decades, our own OCWM dollars from St. Paul UCC have only gone to support the ministries of Northwest Ohio Association, but we rely on the ministries of Ohio Conference and UCC National as well.

Thank you for your support of OCWM through regular benevolence giving and support of the four special offerings. The certificates given in appreciation of your offerings are on display on the bulletin board in the foyer near the church office.
